

Chafarcani

To celebrate 10 years of designing fabric collections for Moda, we introduce our latest collection, Chafarcani. Introduced to France in the 17th century, from Turkey and other areas of the Ottoman Empire, Chafarcani prints were typically small red and white designs printed on linen and often used as lining fabric for clothing. This collection—with the classic French General reds, pearls, neutrals and just a touch of black—create a beautiful group of fabric similar to our first collection with Moda, Rouenneries.
